Family Connection Luke 19:1-10

In today's Gospel, we see Jesus as a guest in the house of Zacchaeus. Talk about the various ways in which your family prepares when guests are expected in your home. Then read today's Gospel, Luke 19:1-10. Observe that Zacchaeus had not prepared to be Jesus' host that day. And yet, he welcomed Jesus better than anyone else because of his change of heart.

Discuss how your family might receive Jesus in your home and how you receive Jesus in the guests that you make welcome in your home. Pray together that your family will welcome guests into your home as you would welcome Jesus.

Knights of Columbus Fundraising for Ultrasound Machine

The Effingham Knight of Columbus Council 665 has launched a Fundraising Campaign to raise funds for a new ultrasound machine for the Family Life Center in Effingham. We have been accepted into the Ultrasound Initiative Program through our Supreme Council. The Ultrasound Initiative Program began in 2009 and to date has helped fund over 1,500 new machines in all 50 states, as well as in Canada, Guatemala, Jamaica, and Peru. Through this program, if a local Council raises 50% of the cost, the Supreme Council will provide a matching grant for the other 50% to complete the funding and allow for the purchase of a new ultrasound machine. This is a tremendous opportunity to equip medically certified pro-life pregnancy centers with the modern technology that will enable expectant mothers to see and hear their babies in utero and recognize the miracle of new life within them. Protecting the sanctity of all human life is part of our Mission as Knights of Columbus, please consider making a donation to our campaign and help us with this worthy cause. If you have any questions or would like to make a donation, please contact me or one of the K of C members listed below.

Living the Eucharist can sometimes be a challenge. In a recent homily from the Holy Father on the parable of the rich man and Lazarus (Luke 16:19-31), Pope Francis teaches, “the Eucharist calls us to love our brothers and sisters. This Bread is the Sacrament of love par excellence. It is Christ who offers himself and breaks himself for us, and asks us to do likewise, so that our life may be ground wheat and become bread that feeds our brothers and sisters” [emphasis original]. How do we, as Catholics in the world today, become bread that feeds others?

One example of how we become bread for others is in the Pro-Life movement. Countless volunteers work at pregnancy centers that empower women to keep their babies, offering their time, talent and treasure as a way of becoming bread for others. Yet there are still challenges to living this message because many Catholics do not have a respect-for-life worldview, refusing to be bread of others.

Another example of being a Eucharistic people is how we serve others. We recently celebrated World Mission Sunday, an opportunity for Catholics to be united in celebration of our common vocation to mission, focusing on the Pope’s missions around the world and the missionaries who dedicate themselves to their service. A challenge here is that most of us are not able to serve people in other countries, but we can still live the Eucharist by supporting these ministries in other ways.

One final challenge to living the Eucharist is simply a lack of faith. Not long ago, the Pew Research Center found that only about a third of Catholics believed in the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist. How can we offer ourselves as bread for others when we don’t recognize Christ in the Eucharist ourselves? Much work needs to be done to help people understand why the Eucharist is so important in our lives.

As we continue on our journey toward a Eucharistic revival, I pray that more people will return to the Church so that the Eucharist can be the center of their lives once again.

In Christ,
Kyle Holtgrave
Director for Catechesis
